Mandatory Occurrence Reporting Plan

Address of project: The Willett Building, 34-37 Sloane Square, London, SW1W 8AQ

Project description: Alterations to existing lift shaft located within lightwell to accommodate installation of new ventilation ductwork for future commercial kitchen

1.0 PURPOSE OF THIS DOCUMENT

This Mandatory Occurrence Reporting Plan has been produced by Collins to meet the Principal Dutyholder's responsibilities under the Building Act, Building Regulations and Building Safety Act, prior to undertaking relevant works to this existing Higher-Risk Building (HRB). Combined with the Construction Control Plan and Change Control Plan, a Mandatory Occurrence Reporting (MOR) Plan is required to demonstrate the processes and procedures for preventing structural and fire safety risk. Where there is, or could be a safety occurrence, the procedures must highlight suitable monitoring and reporting arrangement by the Principal Dutyholders, or the reporting persons.

This MOR policy and report will be submitted to the Building Safety Regulator (BSR) at Gateway 2, prior to commencement of works.

During the construction phase, as the Principal Contractor, Collins will be responsible for organising inspections of the works for safety occurrences at appropriate intervals, collecting and reporting all relevant information in a specified way and timeframe. For Mandatory Occurrences Reporting, the information must relate to issues, or safety risks on the relevant part(s) of the building.

The Dutyholders have a responsibility to create and establish the Mandatory Occurrence Report System. All Dutyholders should be diligent in monitoring, reviewing and assessing the designs, the works and the condition of existing buildings, and be sure to report all potential safety occurrences in accordance with this MOR Plan.

Principal Dutyholders are also obligated to keep all the necessary information in accordance with the requirements to meet their duties. The information will need to be accurate, accessible, well managed and secure as part of a Golden Thread of Information.

Collins as the Principal Contractor, will have the necessary systems in place for organising, monitoring, and maintaining all appropriate information and data.

Awareness of the aspects of our own operations, that can have an impact on the environment shall be maintained, but we also endeavour to influence others outside of our organisation, especially where there is opportunity within the products and services that we provide for potential substitution to less environmentally damaging options.

A specific issue over which we shall always maintain control is the management of the waste which we produce – We meet our duty of care responsibilities, ensuring that our waste is securely contained and only transferred to licensed carriers and destinations.

Based upon our significant environmental aspects and the principles laid out by this environmental policy statement, we set objectives and targets, against which continual improvement can be demonstrated.

Strategic Report

For the year ended 31 December 2025

The directors present the strategic report for the year ended 31 December 2025.

Fair review of the business

Over the last year, the company continued to perform well, although turnover decreased to £17,637,395 in 2025 from £18,904,158 in 2024.

We believe this reduction in turnover can be attributed to continued market uncertainty, together with delays in projects commencing on site as a result of the Government's Higher-Risk Buildings (HRB) guidance.

Despite the reduction in turnover, the company's operating profit remained strong at £1,239,490, which we consider to be a very positive result, demonstrating the company's continued ability to maintain strong profitability despite a reduction in revenue.

The company continues to have a strong balance sheet with net assets of £2,177,635 which is a slight decrease on the year before of £2,835,846, noting that further payments have been made to fund the management buyout.

The first six months of 2026 have seen the company win over £11.2m of new orders, and we remain positive the profit margin will be up to earlier years' expectations and are confident that turnover will reflect an increase on that of 2025.

As we continue to strengthen relationships with existing customers and remain committed to securing repeat business, the company recognises the importance of resourcing new projects while maintaining the high standards of service our clients expect. We continue to build and sustain our strong reputation with leading consultants, surveyors and architects across London and the South East, and remain confident that 2026 will be another successful and profitable year.

The company continues to carry out enhanced due diligence procedures in relation to all new clients as part of its risk management processes.

Staffing requirements are kept under continual review to ensure they align with the company's level of turnover and operational needs. Opportunities for both internal promotion and external recruitment are considered as part of the company's ongoing commitment to maintaining a skilled and capable workforce.

Our open plan office space in Orpington allows for the increase in staff and better collaborative working between departments to improve efficiency throughout the company. The environment provides space for private meetings, open forums and training spaces for management and site staff.

We shall continue to operate in accordance with our established business model and proven track record of securing, delivering, and profitably completing projects. Based on the strength of our current order book to date, pipeline of awarded works awaiting instruction, ongoing tender activity, and longstanding client relationships, we remain confident in the company's ability to continue our successes into 2026.

Collins (Contractors) Limited

For the year ended 31 December 2025

Principal risks and uncertainties

Currently the company considers its risks to comprise of the following:

i) Liquidity

The principal risk to the company is that clients and suppliers may have their working capital facilities restricted in the current economic climate which would affect the company. The company manages its liquidity risks by imposing strict review processes at project commencement with prompt cash collection and credit control throughout each project. The company has maintained a strong cash balance of £993k (2024: £1.74m). The company meets its day to day working capital requirements through the use of existing funds without the need for a bank overdraft or any other external funding.

The company is therefore not exposed to bank interest rate charges, and remains financially strong.

i. Inflation

The company is aware of changing inflation rates and has found increases in materials and suppliers' costs difficult to predict. The middle east conflict in particular is having a direct effect on delivery costs due to the unpredictability of fuel prices. The directors are taking care and consideration of these factors when entering into any fixed price contracts. The strong cash balance enables the company to negotiate supply costs and if required, purchase upfront to avoid future price increases.

The company considers itself to be financially robust in the current market.

ii. Health, Safety & Environment

The maintenance of a safe working environment is of prime importance to the company, and the company continually monitors and improves its procedures to achieve this. The company continued to further strengthen its health and safety management during the course of the year and funded continuous training and personal development for its employees.

The directors continue to reduce the company diesel vehicles in favor of direct deliveries to site and public transport for staff members. At the same time adding an additional 5 electric vehicles to the management fleet via the government salary sacrifice scheme.

iii. Supply Chain

The directors are aware that with the increase in turnover the Management Team are constantly reviewing and adding to the supply chain to ensure suitable and adequate resources are available for each project.

iv. Our People

Our success and growth can only continue with the hard work of our skilled and motivated team, we rely on every member of staff within the organisation to continue to focus and commit to providing the high level of service that our clients have received and expect to receive from Collins.

Management continues to review and provide further training to all employees to ensure they develop their skills, which will enhance the company's delivery and their own careers. The Management Team will continue to arrange the annual company training day for all our site employees, which also forms a relaxed team-building atmosphere.

Directors' Responsibilities Statement

The directors are responsible for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). Under company law, the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period.

In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of Collins (Contractors) Limited

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Collins (Contractors) Limited (the 'company') for the year ended 31 December 2025 which comprise the Statement of Income and Retained Earnings, the Balance Sheet, the Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including Financial Reporting Standard 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2025 and of its profit for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the directors with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The directors are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Company Accounts (2025)

Collins (Contractors) Limited

Independent Auditor's Report

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit:

- the information given in the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Strategic Report or the Directors' Report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the Directors' Responsibilities Statement, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Company Accounts (2025)

Collins (Contractors) Limited

Independent Auditor's Report

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs (UK) we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purposes of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Explanation as to what extent the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

The objectives of our audit in respect of fraud, are; to identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements due to fraud; to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the assessed risks of material misstatement due to fraud, through designing and implementing appropriate responses to those assessed risks; and to respond appropriately to instances of fraud or suspected fraud identified during the audit. However, the primary responsibility for the prevention and detection of fraud rests with both management and those charged with governance of the company.

Our approach was as follows:

- We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory requirements applicable to the company and considered that the most significant are the Companies Act 2006, UK financial reporting standards as issued by the Financial Reporting Council, and UK taxation legislation.
- We obtained an understanding of how the company complies with these requirements by discussions with management and those charged with governance.
- We assessed the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements, including the risk of material misstatement due to fraud and how it might occur, by holding discussions with management and those charged with governance.
- We inquired of management and those charged with governance as to any known instances of non-compliance or suspected non-compliance with laws and regulations.
- Based on this understanding, we designed specific appropriate audit procedures to identify instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. This included making enquiries of management and those charged with governance and obtaining additional corroborative evidence as required.

There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures described above. We are less likely to become aware of instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations that are not closely related to events and transactions reflected in the financial statements. Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Strategic Report

The directors present the strategic report for the year ended 31 December 2024.

Fair review of the business

Over the last year the company has continued to perform well, whilst turnover has increased to £18,904,158 in 2024 compared to £18,308,519 in 2023. The company's operating profit has marginally decreased from £1,757,872 to £1,682,289, due to an increase in overheads.

The directors are aware that this increase in overheads is largely due to expanding our team both on site and at head office.

The company's profit before tax is £1,713,235 which is an excellent result for the company.

The company continues to have a strong balance sheet with net assets of £2,835,846 which is a slight decrease on the year before of £3,251,485, noting that further payments have been made to fund the management buyout.

The first six months of 2025 have seen the company win over £7.6m of new orders. The company has built strong relationships with existing customers and is committed to winning repeat business.

The company is continuing to carry out additional due diligence around any new clients.

The company is fully aware of the requirements to resource new projects whilst continuing to provide a high-quality service to its clients. The company continues to maintain its reputation with leading Consultants, Surveyors and Architects within London and the South East and is confident that 2025 will be another profitable year.

With more management staff, the directors are confident that with the work won to date in 2025, the profit margin will be up to earlier years expectations and are confident that turnover will reflect an increase on that of 2024.

Staff requirements are constantly under review to meet the increase in turnover, internal promotion and external recruitment are always under consideration.

Our open plan office space in Orpington allows for the increase in staff and better collaborative working between departments to improve efficiency throughout the company. The environment provides space for private meetings, open forums and training spaces for management and site staff.

Principal risks and uncertainties

Currently the company considers its risks to comprise of the following:

i) Liquidity

The principal risk to the company is that clients and suppliers may have their working capital facilities restricted in the current economic climate which would affect the company. The company manages its liquidity risks by imposing strict review processes at project commencement with prompt cash collection and credit control throughout each project. The company has maintained a strong cash balance of £1.74m (2023 £1.91m). The company meets its day to day working capital requirements through the use of existing funds without the need for a bank overdraft or any other external funding.

The company is therefore not exposed to bank interest rate charges, and remains financially strong.

ii) Inflation

The company is aware of changing inflation rates and has found increases in materials and suppliers' costs difficult to predict. The directors are taking care and consideration of these factors when entering into any fixed price contracts. The strong cash balance enables the company to negotiate supply costs and if required, purchase upfront to avoid future price increases.

The company considers itself to be financially robust in the current market.

iii) Health, Safety & Environment

The maintenance of a safe working environment is of prime importance to the company and the company continually monitors and improves its procedures to achieve this. The company continued to further strengthen its health and safety management during the course of the year and funded continuous training and personal development for its employees.

iv) Supply Chain

The directors are aware that with the increase in turnover the Management Team are constantly reviewing, and adding to the supply chain to ensure suitable and adequate resources are available for each project.

v) Our People

Our success and growth can only continue with the hard work of our skilled and motivated team, we rely on every member of staff within the organisation to continue to focus, and commit to providing the high level of service that our clients have received and expect to receive from Collins.

Management continue to review and provide further training to all employees to ensure they develop their skills, which will enhance the company's delivery and their own careers. The Management Team will continue to arrange the annual company training day for all our site employees, which also forms a relaxed team building atmosphere.

Directors' Responsibilities Statement

The directors are responsible for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Independent Auditor's Report

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Collins (Contractors) Limited (the 'company') for the year ended 31 December 2024 which comprise the Statement of Income and Retained Earnings, the Balance Sheet, the Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2024 and of its profit for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the directors with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The directors are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit:

- the information given in the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Strategic Report or the Directors' Report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the Directors' Responsibilities Statement, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Collins (Contractors) Limited

To the Members of Collins (Contractors) Limited

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs (UK) we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purposes of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Strategic Report

The directors present the strategic report for the year ended 31 December 2023.

Fair review of the business

Over the last year the company has continued to perform well, whilst turnover has decreased to £18,308,519 in 2023 compared to £19,279,140 in 2022. The company's operating profit has marginally decreased from £1,789,817 to £1,757,872 which is attributed to the decrease in turnover on a reduced percentage gross profit. The directors are aware of the overall reduced profit margin for 2023 which is attributed to the reduced turnover.

The directors are also aware of the increase in overheads and administration costs along with levels of inflation not seen for some years, which has placed material & wage costs at record highs.

The company's profit before tax is £1,757,348 which is an excellent result for the company.

The company continues to have a strong balance sheet with net assets of £3,251,485 which is a slight decrease on the year before of £3,258,079, noting that further payments have been made to fund the management buyout.

The first six months of 2024 have seen the company win over £12.8m of new orders. The company has built strong relationships with existing customers and is committed to winning repeat business.

The company is continuing to carry out additional due diligence around any new clients.

The company is fully aware of the requirements to resource new projects whilst continuing to provide a high quality service to its clients. The company continues to maintain its reputation with leading Consultants, Surveyors and Architects within London and the South East and is confident that 2024 will be another profitable year.

The directors are aware of the overall reduced turnover for 2023, however percentage profit has increased. This is largely due to the director's drive to reduce waste, improve procurement and the increase in staff numbers to ensure profits are maximised along with greater quality control.

With more management staff, the directors are confident that with the work won to date in 2024, the profit margin will be up to earlier years expectations and are confident that turnover will reflect an increase on that of 2023.

Staff requirements are constantly under review to meet the increase in turnover, internal promotion and external recruitment are always under consideration.

Principal risks and uncertainties

Currently the company considers its risks to comprise of the following:

i) Liquidity

The principal risk to the company is that clients and suppliers may have their working capital facilities restricted in the current economic climate which would affect the company. The company manages its liquidity risks by imposing strict review processes at project commencement with prompt cash collection and credit control throughout each project. The company has maintained a strong cash balance of £1.91m (2022 £1.37m). The company meets its day to day working capital requirements through the use of existing funds without the need for a bank overdraft or any other external funding.

The company is therefore not exposed to bank interest rate charges, and remains financially strong.

ii) Inflation

The company is still aware of the current changing inflation rate and has found increases in materials and suppliers' costs difficult to predict. The directors are taking care and consideration of these factors when entering into any fixed price contracts. The volatility in fuel and material costs make tendering and completion of existing projects challenging. The strong cash balance enables the company to negotiate supply costs and if required, purchase upfront to avoid future price increases. The directors have noted that prices for materials have levelled out, and enables the company to continue to tender on a fixed price basis.

The company has employed a buyer at the start of 2024 to procure the best quality materials at the most competitive market prices.

The company considers itself to be financially robust in the current market.

iii) Health, Safety & Environment

The maintenance of a safe working environment is of prime importance to the company and the company continually monitors and improves its procedures to achieve this. The company continued to further strengthen its health and safety management during the course of the year and funded continuous training and personal development for its employees.

iv) Supply Chain

The directors are aware that with the increase in turnover the Management Team are constantly reviewing, and adding to the supply chain to ensure suitable and adequate resources are available for each project.

v) Our People

To continue with the success of the company we rely on every member of staff within the organisation to continue to focus, and commit to providing the high level of service that our clients have received and expect to receive from Collins.

Management continue to review and provide further training to our employees to ensure they develop their skills, which will enhance the company's reputation and their own careers. The Management Team will continue to arrange the annual company training day for all our site employees, which also forms a relaxed team building atmosphere.

Directors' Responsibilities Statement

The directors are responsible for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Independent Auditor's Report

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Collins (Contractors) Limited (the 'company') for the year ended 31 December 2023 which comprise the Statement of Income and Retained Earnings, the Balance Sheet, the Statement of Cash Flows and notes to the financial statements, including significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the company's affairs as at 31 December 2023 and of its profit for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC's Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern

In auditing the financial statements, we have concluded that the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the directors with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report.

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The directors are responsible for the other information contained within the annual report. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether this gives rise to a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006

In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit:

- the information given in the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the Strategic Report and the Directors' Report have been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the Strategic Report or the Directors' Report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the Directors' Responsibilities Statement, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

To the Members of Collins (Contractors) Limited

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs (UK) we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purposes of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Explanation as to what extent the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below.

The objectives of our audit in respect of fraud, are; to identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements due to fraud; to obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the assessed risks of material misstatement due to fraud, through designing and implementing appropriate responses to those assessed risks; and to respond appropriately to instances of fraud or suspected fraud identified during the audit. However, the primary responsibility for the prevention and detection of fraud rests with both management and those charged with governance of the company.

Our approach was as follows:

- We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory requirements applicable to the company and considered that the most significant are the Companies Act 2006, UK financial reporting standards as issued by the Financial Reporting Council, and UK taxation legislation.
- We obtained an understanding of how the company complies with these requirements by discussions with management and those charged with governance.
- We assessed the risk of material misstatement of the financial statements, including the risk of material misstatement due to fraud and how it might occur, by holding discussions with management and those charged with governance.
- We inquired of management and those charged with governance as to any known instances of non-compliance or suspected non-compliance with laws and regulations.
- Based on this understanding, we designed specific appropriate audit procedures to identify instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. This included making enquiries of management and those charged with governance and obtaining additional corroborative evidence as required.

There are inherent limitations in the audit procedures described above. We are less likely to become aware of instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations that are not closely related to events and transactions reflected in the financial statements. Also, the risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.
